Dear Mr. Williams:

Your advertisement in this morning's paper for management positions has been found. I found the wording of your advertisement quite attractive with its clarity and flexibility. And my experience and qualifications indicate that I am qualified for the position.

The enclosed resume indicates my experience in the area of public relations and communications. I am quite familiar with many kinds of issues and can deal with them with ease.

I'd like to draw your attention to the second page of my resume which describes my concept of public relations. And I am most eager to put my ideas into practice for you.

Although I have been very happy with my present employment, I would like to join your company where I can assume even broader responsibilities.

I am free to travel and open to relocation. I would welcome you to contact me to further discuss how I may benefit your organization. Please arrange for an interview at your earliest convenience.

Task 5

Directions: The following is a passage. After reading it, answer the questions that follow. The answers (in no more than 10 words) should be put in the corresponding numbers on the Answer Sheet.

Americans are slowly changing their patterns toward healthy eating, but a gap remains between recommended dietary patterns and what Americans actually eat. From CDC's Behavioral Risk Factor surveillance system indicates that only 10% of U. S. adults eat the recommended five or more servings of fruit and vegetables each day. Between 1987 and 1998, obesity among U. S. adults increased dramatically. new overweight or obese.

Poor eating habits are often established during the childhood years. Most people eat too much fat, and less than 20% eat the recommended amount of vegetables each day. Between 10% and 15% of young people are overweight. The percentages of young people who are overweight increase with age. By 30 years.

People who are overweight are at increased risk for heart disease, diabetes, and possibly cancer. Being overweight also works as a risk factor for arthritis. The total economic cost of obesity in the United States is estimated at 100 billion.

Now we know that good nutrition lowers a person's risk of heart disease, coronary heart disease, stroke, some types of cancer, diabetes, and arthritis.

56. The main idea of this passage is that Americans are slow to change their eating habits.
57. The meaning of the underlined word "obese" may be very fat.
58. The numbers in paragraph 2 show most Americans are not eating healthily.
59. Overweight may result in heart disease, diabetes, and possibly cancer.
60. Because poor eating habits are often established in childhood.
